Foreign End User Certification

P. C. Electronics has a strict policy of selling amateur radio equipment only to verified licensed radio amateurs and for legal uses in the USA per FCC Rules (47 CFR). None of our products are designed or intended for use other than in the Amateur Radio Service and are not FCC Compliant under any other service. Therefore, we are prevented under FCC Rule 47CFR 2.803 from marketing RF devices for any service or application that requires FCC Type Acceptance, Compliance, ID number or would be in violation of the FCC Rules in the USA.

Those business, educational, government agencies or other entities other than an individual licensed radio amateur who wish to purchase equipment from us, for use outside the USA, may do so as long as the statement below is filled in, signed and dated by the purchaser or their authorized agent. The purchaser in this case is the entity that is directly paying P. C. Electronics for and will therefore take title to the equipment - this may be the end user themselves, freight forwarder or authorized agent of the end user.
